

Hooray! We successfully completed our first year and the administration, faculty and staff would like to thank all of our families for sharing your children with us. This has been a wonderful year, packed with classroom learning, field trip experiences, and the time that many community volunteers have generously donated to bring local economies, cultural diversity, and natural resources into the Sage classroom. Please know that each volunteer contribution of time and talents in making education relevant and helps every one of us in making this first year a successful one. This has been a stellar first year! We have a new library (thanks to Regina Dohman and Sabra Rickman and all our book donors), Early Reading Intervention and SIPPS reading programs (thanks to Lori Fisher) and the hiring of two Sage para-professionals. We had reliable and good lunches (thanks to Tracie and CES) and a place for our kids to meet in the morning (thanks to Principal Cindy Moore). Please take the time to thank our teachers and staff for their tremendous efforts to make this school year an exceptional one. A kind word at the year ends gives them such a boost . I want to remind our families that learning is a life-long journey. Research has demonstrated that even 20 minutes of independent reading per day during the summer will help students maintain or increase reading achievement. Please continue to practice and apply math concepts at home whether it's counting miles on a road trip or shells at the beach. To work on writing skills, encourage your child to keep a journal to share when school resumes (I love reading them). We wish our 6th graders continued success as they enter the "big dog" world of Chiloquin Junior/Senior High School. And may each of you stay safe and healthy and have the time to appreciate all the gifts that life has given each of us. See you in September!

Faith Wilkins, Director, Sage Community School

Sage's mascot. The Sage Hawks Ask your child to sing the school song.

Special recognition goes to Wendy Kincaid for her over the top dedication and effort to support Sage. She was a daily reliable monitor at CES for our bus riders. She was consistent as a weekly classroom assistant in Grade 3/4. She serves as our Board Secretary and VP. and our Parent Volunteer coordinator She is a positive role model and a dynamo!!

There will be several opportunities to volunteer over the summer. If you have interest in attending Board meetings or joining a parent group you are always invited.
